Dec 2013

Infographics are not new, but they are a powerful tool that allows easy access to relevant information which has traditionally required tree and planning professionals to trawl extensive reports.

The Public

They are particularly useful to members of the public or non-tree professionals who have an interest in a development site as they can quickly and efficiently see information as it relates to the trees on a site.

BS5837 Reports

All our BS5837 reporting is supported by infographics showing the reader a simple breakdown of species origin, tree type, age class distribution and BS5837 categorisation classes.
